CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER AND VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE DEVELOPMENT

Perth, Australia; 14 October 2010: Phylogica Limited (ASX: PYC) announced today the appointment of Mr Nick Woolf as Chief Financial Officer and Vice President of Corporate Development. In this newly created role, Mr Woolf will oversee Phylogica's financial management, investor relations and capital markets interactions, and will also be actively involved with business development activities.

Mr Woolf joined the Board in April 2010 as Non-Executive Director. He has extensive experience in international business development and finance. Prior to Phylogica, Mr Woolf was Chief Business Officer of a leading UK-based biopharmaceutical company, Oxford BioMedica, and he was formerly head of European biotech equity research at ABN Amro.

Phylogica's Chief Executive Officer, Dr Paul Watt, commented: "I am delighted that Nick is taking on a executive role with Phylogica. This is an exciting time for the Company as we expand our commercialisation efforts and, with his international experience, Nick is a welcome addition to the team."
